

Data Set Name: South Australian Training Contract commencement, completion and in training data

Note: Comparison with NCVER Data

This dataset uses internal South Australian Skills Commission (SASC) data, which is aligned to trades and declared vocations listed on the South Australian Traineeship and Apprenticeship Pathways Schedule. These trades and declared vocations may not align to occupations used for national reporting purposes by the National Centre for Vocational Education Research (NCVER). This data should therefore not be used for comparative purposes with NCVER data. The latest available NCVER apprentice and trainee data can be accessed here.

Meta Data (How to use/interpret the data set)

- In training data provide a list of all apprentices and trainees in South Australia with an active Training Contract at the date indicated on each file.
- Commencement data provide a list of all apprentices and trainees who have commenced their Training Contract. Data are provided approximately three months in arrears, for the preceding 12-month period.
- Completion data provide a list of apprentices and trainees who have successfully completed their Training Contract. Data are provided approximately three months in arrears, for the preceding 12-month period.

Each row in each data file provides data specific to an apprentice or trainee who has/had a Training Contract in South Australia, as per a varied set of fields:

- Training type: whether a specific Training Contract is an apprenticeship or traineeship; field will contain either SATraineeship or SA Apprenticeship.
- Start date: the date that the apprentice/trainee commenced their Training Contract, in MM/DD/YYYY format.
- End date: the date that the apprentice/trainee successfully completed their Training Contract, in MM/DD/YYYY format.

Government of South Australia

- Post Code: the postcode of the employer's worksite where the apprentice/trainee is receiving their on-job training.
- Vocation: the occupational title associated with the apprentice/trainee's Training Contract.
- Qualification: the qualification undertaken by the apprentice/trainee as part of their Training Contract, listing the qualification name and then the qualification code in brackets, where an apprentice is undertaking a dual qualification, both qualifications are listed split out by an "&".
- Gender: either Male, Female or Other.
- School-Based Status: either True or False
- Indigenous Status: either No, Yes – Aboriginal, Yes - Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander, Yes - Torres Strait Islander or Not Stated
- Self-Declared Injury or Disability: either Yes, No or Not Stated
- Learner age at commencement: the age of the apprentice/trainee at commencement of their Training Contract

All data are current as at the time of Training Contract sign-up, unless an application has subsequently been submitted to Traineeship and Apprenticeship Services (TAS), South Australian Skills Commission (SASC), to update personal details and/or vary the Training Contract.

*These fields have been added to each dataset effective from 1 July 2026.

Background

These data are collected by SASC, who are responsible for the regulation of South Australia's apprenticeship and traineeship system. Data are collected during the submission of Training Contract applications and variations.

A Training Contract is a binding agreement between an employer and an apprentice/trainee (and the apprentice/trainee's parent/guardian if they are under 18) for the apprentice/trainee to receive employment and on-job training from that employer for a defined period in a particular vocation. The apprentice/trainee will also receive formal off-job training from a Registered Training Organisation, leading to the issuance of a nationally recognised qualification upon successful completion. Most full-time apprenticeships will generally last for four years, and traineeships for one to two years.
